
PRESS RELEASE

Red Vector Welcomes Retired Federal Agent Hunter Jones as Vice President, Federal

Jones will lead Red Vector's business development efforts for the Federal sector

Chesterbrook, PA – December 22, 2022 – Red Vector, Inc., the Holistic Insider Risk Management firm, announced the appointment of retired Federal Agent Hunter Jones as the company's Vice President, Federal.

As a member of the company's leadership team, Jones will lead Red Vector's business development initiatives for the Federal sector. With over 25 years of experience in the Defense, Intelligence and Civil communities, he brings a wealth of knowledge and operational insight to Red Vector's offerings for all branches of the United States government.

"Hunter's deep security and investigative experience gives him a superior understanding of the challenges that Federal government agencies are up against," said Stephen Layne, Chief Executive Officer at Red Vector. "We have a significant opportunity to help the Federal government mature its security posture with Holistic Insider Risk Management systems and processes, and Hunter is well-positioned to realize this opportunity."

Jones had been serving as an Advisory Board member to Red Vector since its founding last year. Prior to joining the company, he served as a Strategic Security Consultant at Babel Street, System High and Clearspeed. He has also worked for consulting firms Insight Global and Booz Allen Hamilton, and as Government Site Security Leader at the Boeing Company. Prior to that, he served as a career federal agent for the Office of Special Investigations (OSI). He graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy and then cross-commissioned into the U.S. Air Force where he earned a Master of Science in Strategic Intelligence from the National Defense Intelligence College and a Master of Arts in Military Operational Arts and Science with emphasis in International Security Studies from the Air Command and Staff College. He currently serves on the board of ASIS International for the local Philadelphia Chapter, serves on the Board of Directors for VBC Giving Foundation (non-profit), and is a member of the OSI Association of Special Agents.

“I’m excited to join Red Vector because it’s clear we have the best solution to support the Federal Government’s Trusted Workforce and Zero Trust Architecture Missions and meet the mission requirements of Federal Insider Threat Hubs,” said Jones.

About Red Vector

Red Vector is the Holistic Insider Risk Management company. The company provides advanced insider risk analysis solutions used by essential public and private organizations to reduce and eliminate threats before they manifest. Red Vector’s full-stack software solution, Fulcrum™, enables organizations to operationalize insider risk program best practices. It automatically aggregates virtual, physical and human risk indicators for continuous evaluation by customizable risk models. Leveraging seven years of real-world data and analysis to reduce the insider risks of some of the most critical organizations in the world, Red Vector is transforming the operational effectiveness of insider risk programs. Red Vector is headquartered in Chesterbrook, Pennsylvania. Founded by executives from Lockheed Martin, Leidos, IBM and Moody’s, Red Vector is on a mission to help insider risk teams ensure a trusted workforce from the risks posed by malicious insiders. Qualifying organizations can gain full access to Fulcrum™ by requesting a briefing.

To learn more, follow Red Vector on LinkedIn or visit www.redvector.ai